

AUTISM ACCEPTANCE

Spirit Week

MARCH 31 - APRIL 4

MONDAY

SHOW YOUR PASSION

Dress to show something you love! One characteristic of autism is to show incredible focused passion for topics of interest.

TUESDAY

SENSORY FRIENDLY

Today is all about being comfy! Wear your softest PJs, socks and sweatshirt to feel your cozy best! Some autistic people have a variety of sensory sensitivities.

WEDNESDAY

GO BLUE

Today is World Autism Day! Let's all wear the color blue to be unified and show our support for our friends and peers with autism.

THURSDAY

NEURODIVERSITY DAY

Dress in tie-dye or colorful clothes to symbolize inclusion for all.

The rainbow infinity sign is known as a symbol for autism and neurodiversity.

FRIDAY

TEAM UP

Wear your favorite team jersey to show acceptance and support for everyone! Autism is a complex developmental disability which primarily affects an individual's ability with social interaction and communication.

Thank you for participating in this week dedicated to fostering & growing understanding, awareness, inclusion & connection.
